Regional Studies, as an academic discipline, was born as a product of Imperialism and the Cold War world order. It was during this period in world history that modern states saw the crucial need to study other societies and cultures to realize their own political and economic interests. However, even long before modern political systems and academia were established, people could not survive without incessant material and cultural exchanges with other people in and outside their own region. The reason that our world today could have homogeneity and diversity is that each region, country, and society has long been connected with others.

The trend of globalization, having begun to accelerate after the 1980s, is now creating hyper-connectivity never seen before in human society. The time-space compression due to the advancement of communication and transportation technology promotes the mobility of humans, materials, and cultural resources, thus increasing interdependency and producing various issues and conflicts. According to such changes, the importance of regional studies continues to grow. For coexistence with nature, tolerance for others, and amelioration of uneven development and inequality, the role of regional studies has become more urgent than ever as it enhances the mutual understanding and cooperative practice of the residents of the global village.

Since its establishment in 2009, SNUAC has been undertaking tremendous efforts to be a core institute for regional studies not only domestically but also internationally. As a result, we are now rigorously operating our educational and academic activities with seven regional research centers, nine thematic research programs, and the HK+ Mega-Asia Research Project supported by the National Research Foundation as of 2023. Also, over 130 researchers and administrative staffs are cooperating with related departments at Seoul National University, international research institutions, and researchers. To intensify the multidisciplinary, multiregional, and international cooperative research based on these capabilities, SNUAC has been holding over 300 academic seminars and conferences every year.

SNUAC will continue to seek to establish the identity of Asian regional studies, practical solutions for the issues of globalization, society, and industry, and pursue the popularization of knowledge. To this end, we need not only the academic efforts of the members of SNUAC but also close cooperation with institutions and experts worldwide interested in the Asian region. I sincerely hope that SNUAC will continue to contribute to the mutual human understanding of cohabitation.

Thank you.

SNUAC is a comprehensive research institute based on an approach integrating regional and thematic research. SNUAC comprises of HK+ Mega-Asia Research Project Group, seven regional research centers, eight thematic research programs, along with Asia Regional Information Center which collects and manage regional information and data. Under the director and deputy director, three departments (Academic Research Department, International Exchanges Department, Human Resources Department) as well as the Strategy and Planning Office and Administration Office support the research activities of each unit and carry out projects of the institute.
HK+ Mega-Asia Research Project Group

The HK+ Mega-Asia Project Research Group based at SNUAC was launched in May 2020 with the support of the National Research Foundation of Korea's grant for regional studies. Promoting the research agenda of “Mega-Asia and Asias: Identities, Dynamics, Data-Telling”, the research group entered its second phase in May 2023. Seeking to establish a new perspective and awareness of Asia through the framework of ‘Mega-Asia’, the research group aims to construct a new paradigm for Asian regional studies by applying a comparative regional studies methodology and adopting an interdisciplinary and convergent research approach. Through this project, SNUAC hopes to establish itself as one of the world’s top three hubs in Asian studies by fostering Asian regional experts over a period of seven years.

Main Projects and Research Topics

* Publication of the ‘Mega-Asia’ book series – A total of 6 volumes in Phase 2 (4 years)
* Research on the Phase 2 overall research agenda “Mega-Asia in flux, sustainability, cooperation, and Korea”
* Operation of a fostering program for Mega-Asia regional researchers and experts
* Operation of AsIA Humanities Dissemination Center

The AsIA Humanities Dissemination Center was established in May 2020 to disseminate the research outcomes of HK+ Mega-Asia Research Group, which seeks to see Asia with a new perspective of humanities and social sciences, to public at home and abroad. As a platform to foster global regional experts and publicize Asian regional knowledge and information on humanities internationally, the center operates various educational programs. The center aims to provide education open to all regardless of age and region, and pursues the expansion of accessibility and diversification of programs through MOUs and cooperation with related institutions. Also, the center uploads videos of all programs to its YouTube channel, in order to play the role in the circulation of knowledge information and social communication.

Main Projects and Research Topics

* AsIA Local Expert Course: A program to foster adults in their 20s and 30s as local experts
* AsIA Open University: Open university program using video contents from Diverse+Asia to heighten the public’s awareness on Asia
* AsIA Humanities Asset Course: Classes co-hosted with the National Museum of Korea for public, related to the history, culture, and art of Asia
* AsIA School of Civilization and Knowledge: Classes co-hosted with the Extension College at Seoul National University for public, offering lectures on Asian civilizational knowledge from a perspective of humanities and social sciences
* Dungsildungsil AsIA Culture Festival: An annual humanities festival with events on various themes related to Asian culture

The Northeast Asia Center (NEAC) was established to analyze and understand the various issues around political, economic, social, and cultural changes in the Northeast Asian region that is undergoing upheavals following globalization. Through diverse types of academic and cooperative activities, NEAC seeks to make multifaceted and in-depth approaches to issues that cannot be solved on a single national scale such as the division of Korean peninsula and the South-North relations, Korea’s relations with China and Japan, territoriality and center/peripheries of each Northeast Asian country, conflicts around Northeast Asian history, post-Cold War transition, transnational issues and regional conflicts. Further, NEAC pursues transdisciplinary research through communing and cooperating with Asia-related research institutes in SNU and seeks to contribute to the activation of Northeast Asian regional studies as a hub of communication and exchanges with various institutes on and off campus.

Main Projects and Research Topics

* East Asia on the regional level: Studying the dynamics and multilayers of modern East Asia seen through changes in regional societies
* Conflicts and peace in North and South Korea and East Asia: Studying the changes in world order and seeking solidarity and cooperation in Northeast Asia
* CHINA PERSPECTIVE: Understanding China comprehensively and systematically
* East Asian social changes, urban changes, and changes in mobility
* Transdisciplinary Asian studies including changes in the geoeconomic dynamics of Asia

The Southeast Asia Center (SEAC) was established in 2012 and has been producing and widely providing professional knowledge and information on the Southeast Asian region. SEAC conducts comprehensive and interdisciplinary research on the overall region, maintains and develops networks with other institutes at home and abroad related to the region, and operates programs such as open lectures, invitational expert lectures, and research group meetings to promote public understanding of Southeast Asia.

Main Projects and Research Topics

* Invitational lectures: Held academic lectures by inviting experts working in different regions of Southeast Asia

* Open lectures: Held public lectures to promote deeper understanding of Southeast Asia for all who are interested in the region

* Southeast Asian studies research group meetings: Fostered academic future generation by supporting rising scholars writing theses and dissertations on Southeast Asia

* Academic activities: Published issue papers and policy reports for enhancing understanding of the region

Since its establishment in April 2014, the Center for Eurasian and Central Asian Studies (CECAS) has continued to conduct research integrating regional and thematic studies. CECAS provides information on current affairs in Central Asia and Eurasian region and fosters experts in the region by actively presenting research outcomes in diverse academic disciplines.

CECAS also aims to promote public interests in Central Asia, and has forged research network for ongoing cooperation with domestic and foreign universities and research institutions. Based on various efforts and activities including academic events and publications, CECAS seeks to derive practical implications on policy and establish itself as a hub of Central Asian studies.

Main Projects and Research Topics

* Migration and Refugee: Research on migration-related institutions and discourses such as return migration in Eurasia, dynamics of labor migration, migration policy, migration and security; research on refugee routes from the Ukrainian War (to Korea, Israel, and Poland) and the policy of destination countries

* Korean Diaspora: Research on the life and culture of Koryo people in Central Asia and Eurasia and the characteristics of Koryo community in Korea

* New Regionalism in Eurasia: Research on the process and dynamics of Central Asia being formed as a region beyond the frame of nation states

* Eurasian Borders: Research on the aspects of interaction over borders in Central Asia and analysis of regional changes

* Central Asian Islam: Research on Central Asian Islam as a social phenomenon rather than simply a religion for Central Asian people

* Grants for a student club that studies Central Asia and Eurasia: Fostering undergraduate and graduate students interested in Central Asian and Eurasian Studies

The Center for South Asian Studies (CSAS) was established to pursue multidimensional and reciprocal cooperative projects with the seven countries in the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation (SAARC) such as India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, and Nepal, and to study their history, economy, politics, languages and cultures with the aim of systematically building related capacities.

After establishing diplomatic relations with South Asian countries in the 1970s, Korea has recently reinforced cooperation in the context of New Southern Policy and joined SAARC as an observer state in 2007. CSAS seeks to perform the role of an academic link that connects diverse agents who contribute to the creation and accumulation of information related to South Asia. For this aim, the center is pursuing projects that expand the range of joint research and work with various institutes, researchers, and agents of South Asian countries.

Main Projects and Research Topics

* Korea-India joint research on fab labs: Joint research conducted in Korea and India using fab labs that seek solutions in the field by reflecting citizen needs and participation
* South Asia Culture School: Public knowledge-sharing project providing professional understanding of South Asian culture and history in an open frame
* CSAS Colloquium: Monthly events for inviting experts to share analyses and prospects on current issues of South Asia
* Korea-India Industry Forum: Research and networking activities seeking expanded commercial exchange between Korea and India with support from Ministry of Trade, Industry and Energy

The West Asia Center (WAC) was established to provide a timely view through deep, suggestive analysis of West Asia, strengthen the foundation for research of West Asia through continuous research, and build networks between researchers, businessmen and government officials of West Asia. WAC has formed relationships with experts for expansion of regional studies research through colloquia and added depth to understanding West Asia through regional intensive seminars. The current goal of WAC is to analyze the issues of mobility, politics, sectarianism, and economy in West Asia.

Main Projects and Research Topics

* Specialized Colloquium: Discussing current West Asian issues such as diversification of Saudi Arabian economy, Middle Eastern authoritarianism, politics, and Islam

* NRF Joint Research Project: Since June 1st, 2023, seeking new theoretical basis for Middle Eastern civil society by researching the development of civil society and the relationship between civil society and political regimes under the theme “MENA in the era of complex global crisis: New security, alternative order, and civil society”

* Support for young scholars: Promoting academic exchanges and active research of young scholars studying West Asia by supporting seminars of scholars

* Support for undergraduate student club: Training follow-up generations of West Asian studies by supporting studies and activities of university students

The Vietnam Center (VC) serves as a central institution for Seoul National University’s education and research on Vietnam. The center accumulates qualitative and quantitative regional information related to Vietnam and services it to be used by researchers. The center plans and conducts transdisciplinary research over various disciplines such as anthropology, political science, economics, and public administration. The center is actively participating in Vietnam-related national and private research and exchange projects and accumulating research and information on Vietnam. The Center is contributing to common prosperity of Vietnam and Korea by transferring the strategies of occupational training, higher education, and academic research to local institutions in Vietnam. The Center is also strengthening Vietnam-related networks by serving as an acting secretariat of the Vietnam Forum of Seoul National University.

Main Projects and Research Topics

* Academic exchanges: Korea-Vietnam joint academic conferences (VNU University of Social Sciences and Humanities, Hanoi)
* Industry-Academia exchanges: Seminars and business forum commemorating 30 years of Korea-Vietnam ties
* Building original dataset: Constructing dataset comprising of biographical information on VCP central committee members
* Policy research commissioned by public institutions: labor management guide for Korean companies in Vietnam (published in 2022)
* Expanded networks: Promoting MOUs with Vietnamese higher education institutions (VNU University of Social Sciences and Humanities, Hanoi, Fulbright University Vietnam, FPT University); acting secretariat of the Vietnam Forum of Seoul National University
* Occupational training in Vietnamese high-tech industry: Carrying forward the contest for civil society cooperation program by KOICA

The Asia-Africa Center was established in March 2022 for pursuing transdisciplinary research that can mutually complement the universality and specificity of studies on Africa and for performing a role as an exclusive research institute for African studies that equally understands both Korean and African perspectives beyond the existing West-oriented view on Africa. Functioning as a strategic think tank that can provide practical policy suggestions that meet the needs of the times, the center ultimately aims to make a leap as a global research hub of African studies that connects Asia and Africa and leads to mutual understanding between the two continents.

Main Projects and Research Topics

- Building a DB of experts on Africa: Constructing a DB for cooperating with experts of each region and discipline (construction of a home page)
- Discovering and disseminating research topics related to Africa in Korea: Korea's diplomatic policy for Africa, developmental cooperation, studies on regions of conflict, etc.
- Holding seminars and special lectures with experts of African studies: Inviting prominent overseas researchers of the field for public seminars
- Creating a field of networking about Africa: Preparing a platform for continuous communication among the government, corporations, NGOs, and academia
- Seeking cooperation and partnership with major institutes abroad related to Africa

The mission of SNUAC’s Future Earth Program is to find transdisciplinary ways to realize sustainable development and to build and share global knowledge that will increase the impact of sustainability research. Pursuing the vision of a healthy, just and flourishing Asia, based on dialogue and research cooperation between the natural sciences, humanities and social sciences, Future Earth Program discovers research topics for promoting sustainability of the Korean Peninsula and Asia, and contributes to policy development based on the research needs. Starting with the hosting of the Korea National Committee for Future Earth in 2019, SNUAC has been promoting the realization of the ‘Future Earth’ mission and vision in Korea and Asia through Future Earth Program which provides a research and education platform for interaction with networking partners; and continues carrying out the infrastructure establishment project for the Future Earth Program.

Main Projects and Research Topics

* Performing its role as the Korean National Committee: Fulfill the functions and roles of the National Committee of the Future Earth Assembly, establish partnerships with global secretariat hubs, and contribute to Sustainability•Research•Innovation (SRI) Congress and activities in Asia

* Domestic and international partnerships toward Mega-Asia: Promote domestic and international partnerships with SNUAC centered on the Asia Regional Information Center and HK+ Mega Asia Research Group through joint/training workshop/seminar/forum on complex systems science research, education, and datatelling-based visioneering

Civil Society and NGOs Program

#RegionalDevelopment #Governance #Migration #Multiculturalism #Community

The Civil Society and NGOs Program (CSP) aims to provide in-depth comparisons and analyses of changes in civil societies of major countries in East Asia including Korea as its area of focus. Major research areas are environment, human rights and social economy, with key topics being 'regional development and governance', 'migration and multi-culture', and 'community and alliance', respectively. The program has been carrying out research on the topography and network structure of each realm of Korean, Asian, and global civil societies; civil society activities in areas of environment, labor, energy, public health, women, youth, and social economy; agents on multiple levels of civil society such as grassroots, state-level governance, corporate, and civil movement.

Main Projects and Research Topics

* Research on the topography and network structure of Korean, Asian, and global civil societies: Conducted a survey on organizations registered on the conspectus of NGOs and non-profit NGOs for fundamental statistics based on their aims, areas, primary activities, organizational structures, and finances; proceeded with publication

* Connecting macro- and micro-perspectives on civil society: Published 'Asian Studies in a Global Context Series' that connects macro-perspectives on global NGOs and globalization and micro-perspectives on residents, citizens, villages, etc.

* Comparative research on East Asia's response to COVID-19 and the post-pandemic new normal: With globalization, democracy, and civil society under the influence of COVID-19 as the topic, researchers of Korea, Japan, Taiwan and Vietnam participated in two international academic conferences; proceeded with publication of an edited volume

* Asia Civil Society Workshop Series: Conducted comparative research on cases of Korea, Japan, and Hong Kong with topics of civil society organizations, multi-cultural society, social corporate, and social value

* Construction of network for East Asian civil society researchers: Built domestic cooperative research networks with the Korean Sociological Association and the Critical Sociological Association of Korea, and international networks with GIC at Toyo Univ., Toshisha Univ., the Association for the Study of Political Society (ASPOS), and the East Asia Sociological Association

Asian Developmental Model Program

Asian Developmental Model Program aims to analyze the specificity and diversity of the Asian capitalist system theoretically and empirically and to classify sustainable Asian developmental models based on the analysis. To do so, the program discusses the common institution and culture of Asian capitalism and classifies the diversity of Asian capitalism by comparatively analyzing various industries in terms of corporate governance, intercorporate relations, labor, finances, welfare and global value chains. The program seeks to suggest a sustainable Asian developmental model by setting the regional commonality of Asian capitalism and a synthesized framework that includes the diversity of countries within the region.

Main Projects and Research Topics

* Covid-19 and Governance: Comparative analysis of responses of nations in each region to the pandemic from an institutional perspective Analyzing East Asian developmental model: Understanding key common factors in political and economic trajectories and developmental models of Japan, the origin of developmental model, Korea and Taiwan, the rising industrial countries, Vietnam, and China; focusing on the cohesion of state institutions, bureaucratic autonomy, cooperation of state/socioeconomic powers, external forces, institutional heritage of financial system, the idea of developmental paradigm

* Studies on the continuance and changes of East Asian developmental model: Comparative analysis of developmental routes of Korea, Taiwan, Japan, China, and Vietnam based on the influences of and responses to the 2008 global recession

* Studies on the diversity of Asian capitalism: Expanding the horizons of comparative political economics that has been mostly studied around western Europe, through a comparative study of state and society relationship, role of the state, industrial structure, global value chain linkage, etc.

* Categorization of Asian capitalist developmental model (regimes): Developmental regimes (Korea, Taiwan, Japan), Pseudo-developmental regimes (Malaysia, Thailand, Indonesia), Predatory regimes (Philippines, Myanmar, North Korea), Reconstructed developmental regimes (Korea, Taiwan, Japan), China (Vietnam)

Exchange and Cooperation in the Asian World Program

#TheAsianWorld #ExchangeNetworks #ArchaeologicalHistoricalMaterials #Interdisciplinary_ConvergentResearch #MovementofPeopleThingsIdeas #Diaspora

The Exchange and Cooperation in the Asian World Program aims to identify the various exchange networks that existed in the ‘Asian World’ and to trace their diachronic developments. Due to the vastness of the study area and the diversity of the research topics involved, this program seeks to establish a new research framework for ‘Asian Regional Studies’ through an interdisciplinary and convergent approach. Empirical research on past networks can demonstrate how ‘mobility’ and ‘connectivity’ have contributed to the formation and reproduction of the Asian World, and also provides insights on exchange and cooperation in the contemporary Asian World.

Research goals for 2022-2024 include the construction of an ‘Archaeological and Historical Evidence for Exchange in the Asian World Database’ for empirical research of various exchange networks that created the Asian World. The program will also carry out in-depth research on how people, things, and ideas have moved across borders.

Main Projects and Research Topics

* Theoretical and methodological consideration of the Asian World: Exploring Asian World composed on networks
* Empirical studies on the exchange networks of the Asian World: Tracing the mobility of people, things, and ideas
* Comparative research on the maritime worlds of Eurasia’s eastern and western ends

Program on Asia's Intellectual Values

The values present in Asia’s intellectual traditions can well demonstrate what it is to be ‘Asian’. The Program on Asia’s Intellectual Values revisits Asia’s ideological traditions in order to identify and establish the meaning of pre-modern Asian values. This attempt to illuminate Asian values from a fresh perspective is undertaken through multi-disciplinary and convergent research.

Main Projects and Research Topics

* Discovering Asian values in the Fajia School of Thought: Examining legal texts
* Discovering Asian values in Confucianism: Re-reading the Analects
* Discovering Asian values in Taoism: Exploring perceptions of ideal society and community

The Center for Asian Urban Societies (CAUS) aims to suggest post-developmental city paradigm and the urban transition strategy, which help Asian cities overcome the limitations of developmental urbanization and establish a human-centered urban community. It also wants to contribute citizens to make alternative daily lives by making and flourishing commons-oriented urban platforms as social-cultural-spatial infrastructures. The Center strives to disseminate its research results to society through active policy proposals. Further, it establishes research-based urban solidarity through domestic and overseas research and activity networks.

Main Projects and Research Topics

* Constructing commons-oriented urban platforms as social-cultural-spatial infrastructures of ‘Post-Gangnamization’
* Analyzing social-cultural-spatial process of speculative urbanization
* Researching urban living and everyday lives and seeking alternatives: 100 livings and 100 everyday lives
* Developing urban transition strategies for ‘Post-Gangnamization’
* Pioneering experiments and policy proposals to establish an institutional foundation for commons-based urban transition

Hallyu, referring to the significant overseas popularity of Korean popular culture, has been rapidly developing into a global cultural phenomenon beyond Asia and greatly changing Korea's realistic and imaginary relations in the world. At a point when Korea has to reinstate a national image that befits its status as an advanced country, the importance of Hallyu as a soft power became much larger. The Center for Hallyu Studies seeks to be the hub of Hallyu Studies by activating networks at home and abroad and re-establishing the meaning of studying Hallyu. To do this, the center will theorize Hallyu studies, which has been sporadically conducted in several areas; formulate important issues; and pursue transdisciplinary research and formation of a global network of researchers. The center will construct the basis of Hallyu through integrated research and sharing of research outcomes through publications and academic events, and discover and perform projects the research outcomes of which can contribute to society.

Main Projects and Research Topics

* CHS 100 Min. Talk Series: Inviting scholars who have published significant works on Hallyu and popular culture to create a field of academic discussion

* Roundtable Talk: Providing opportunities for experts in academia and industry related to Hallyu and Korean popular culture to share diverse perspectives; forming a network of facilitators and researchers

* Archiving Hallyu Project: ① Collecting and analyzing conflict cases related to Hallyu contents and racial, gender, and cultural appropriation in the process of their reception; ② Constructing database of broadcasted footages and social media contents, which are major materials for Hallyu studies; ③ Archiving publications on Hallyu studies at home and abroad

* English translation of academic books in humanities and social sciences related to Korean popular culture: Translating important research monographs published in Korean into English for promoting balanced development and enhanced visibility of international academic discourses related to Hallyu

* Performing other research projects related to Hallyu and participating in projects pursued by researchers and partner networks of the center

Center for Asian Migration Studies

The Center for Asian Migration Studies (CAMS) concentrates on basic research for exploring, understanding, and explaining the status, characteristics, and prospects of migration and immigration over countries, regions, and continents. At the same time, the center seeks to establish itself as a hub of Asian migration studies through a network of related agents at home and abroad such as the government, academia, and civil society, in the rapid transitional process toward a multicultural society with low birthrate. To this end, the center will construct a database for Asian migration studies and create a network of migration experts within and outside the country. Through discussions and explorations of migration policy and issues with experts in Korea and other countries, the center will proliferate research outcomes through academic exchanges including conferences.

Main Projects and Research Topics

* Constructing basic database of Asian migration studies: Building a database of basic materials for migration studies such as migration scholars at home and abroad, related institutions, major literature, migration policy, academic events, publications, etc.

* Theorizing the characteristics of migration phenomenon within the Asian context in collaboration with National Taiwan University’s Global Asia Center; developing various empirical studies and comparative study of each country’s migration policy

* Studying the process of social integration between residents and migrants in the rapid transition to low-birthrate, aging, and multicultural society

* Constructing network of migration experts: aiming to function as a hub of Asian migration studies centering around a network of migration experts including international scholars, governmental organizations, international organizations, and civil society

* Asian migration expert colloquium: a lecture series in Asian migration studies by international scholars to discover research topics over migration in “Asia” and seek policy measures

The Asia Regional Information Center (ARIC) aims to establish comprehensive database based on statistical analysis of qualitative/quantitative data of individual countries & regions in Asia, in response to the social needs of present national and regional information. Our ultimate goal is to contribute to developing cultural intelligence competence by creating an integrated information platform for sharing various information and data, attributed by ARIC’s versions of country reports and data modules.

Main Projects and Research Topics

* Development of ARIC Country Reports & Factsheet: Combining regional knowledge from local experts and various indices of international organizations, regularly updating to accumulate timely information

* Establishment of Statistical Database and Analysis Procedure: Data collection of current information from Asian countries, structural design of database, data modulation using statistical programs

* Provision of Storytelling and Visualization: Providing visualized data and analysis based on major timely issues (COVID-19) and on-demand data service based on quantitative statistical analysis

* Expansion of Cooperation within and out of SNU: Inner-SNU cooperation for Pan-SNU Country Reports, international cooperation with IOs for information platform

* Construction of Data Hub customized for Asia Regional Research: Developing cultural intelligence competence to better understand different cultures and to promote cultural & academic exchanges

* SDGs Progress (on 12 countries), ASEAN & Korea in figures (useful tool for studying and understanding ASEAN countries and Korea-ASEAN relations)

* Asia Review is the triannually published academic journal of SNUAC. The journal seeks to integrate Asian regional and thematic studies through interdisciplinary studies in humanities and social sciences and present diverse research findings on topics related to Asia.

* The first issue of Asia Review was published in June 2011. The journal was selected as the registration candidate for the National Research Foundation, and selected as a registered journal in August 2017. Its registration status has been applied since the second issue of volume six, published on February 28, 2017.

* The journal is open to diverse academic approaches and methodologies and strives for academic consilience by publishing studies in various areas from politics to economy, society, culture, and history under the common topic of ‘Asian Studies’.

* The journal promotes the development of specialized knowledge in relevant areas by supporting Asia-related research conducted by outstanding scholars through SNUAC-planned projects and publishing the results in special articles following careful selection and review.

Asia Brief

* Asia Brief is SNUAC’s policy brief, established with the aim of forming an epistemic community of the Asian region transcending borders

* The editorial team hosts lectures and talks with experts from home and abroad on major current issues

* Asia Brief performs the role as a public forum for analyzing current issues of Asia and suggesting their implications to policy, developing strategies for Korea’s launch into Asian market, and the construction of Mega-Asia

* Selects the theme of each brief with strong implication to strategy and policy based on current core regional issues
Diverse+Asia

- Diverse+Asia is a quarterly webzine that covers current issues in five regions of Asia through issues and special themes.
- The webzine performs as an online platform of Asian studies by producing timely contents and offering easily approachable professional analyses on popular issues on Asia.
- The articles published on the webzine have been edited as volumes in the Mega-Asia Research Series.

* The research internship is a program to foster future Asia experts.
* The program provides undergraduate and graduate students from Korea and overseas interested in Asian studies with research and work experiences related to their research interests.
* Research interns take introductory classes in Asian studies, conduct their own seminars, organize field trips, and compose short papers. They also participate as assistants for research or administrative work at centers or teams.
* Certificates of completion are given and outstanding essays are awarded at the completion of the six-month program.

KF Global e-School Program

* The e-School program offers real-time online lectures to undergraduate/graduate students at reputable overseas universities interested in contemporary Korean society.
* Students take e-School classes offered by faculty members of Seoul National University and receive regular credits from their home institutions.
* The program consists of 1) real-time lectures via latest video meeting services (Zoom, Skype), 2) faculty visit program where the instructor visits overseas university for face-to-face meetings, and 3) fellowship program during the summer time for outstanding students taking the courses.
* With the support of Korea Foundation, SNUAC has offered 142 courses to 22 universities in 13 countries across Asia and Europe between 2011-2022.

* Supports graduate students who require field research to write their master’s theses and doctoral dissertations related to Asia
* Provides graduate students at SNU who study topics in humanities and social science related to Asia with opportunities to investigate and collect data on site

Supporting Student Clubs on Asian Studies

* Southeast Asian Study Group Grant: Fosters researchers preparing theses on Southeast Asia and constructs a network of researchers by calling for a study group of students interested in the region twice a year
* Supports research exchanges of KYMR, a group of rising Korea scholars studying MENA regions, and fosters next-generation scholars by supporting university student clubs studying West Asian regions
* Supports Eurasia Research Group, a student club for Central Asian and Eurasian studies, to foster academic future generations and form networks
1. How can I collaborate with SNUAC as a researcher involved in Asian regional studies?

Currently, the International Exchange Department is promoting mutual exchanges among researchers engaged in Asia studies through the visiting scholar program and fellowship. Further, there are various opportunities provided by SNUAC to share research achievements through article submissions to our KCI journal Asia Review and Asia Regional Review Webzine Diverse+Asia and application to ICAS Book Prize for outstanding works on Asia (Korean Edition) that SNUAC organizes. SNUAC also promotes cooperation with not only individual researchers but also Asia-related research institutes through the Council of Asia Research Institutes at SNU (CARISNU).

2. Through which channel can I obtain data related to Asia?

SNUAC has been professionally accumulating data in Asian studies. Asia Regional Information Center (ARIC) provides databases of international organizations such as World Bank, IMF and UN and integrated data related to COVID-19, as well as providing regional information and country reports with a local perspective written by public workers of underdeveloped countries.

3. Which programs of SNUAC can undergraduate students participate in?

The Human Resources Development Department operates research internship for undergraduate and graduate students interested in Asian studies, as a part of its training program for fostering future Asian experts. The internship is operated in six-month terms and provides opportunities for students to experience research and field work related to their research interests.

4. Which programs of SNUAC can graduate (master’s and doctoral) students participate in?

SNUAC operates various grant programs for graduate students working with topics related to Asia. Our major programs are the dissertation writing fellowship, which supports doctoral students in Korea in the last stage of writing their dissertations for one year, and the master’s thesis and doctoral dissertation award that provides prize money and publication support for recent outstanding dissertations. Graduate students at SNU can apply for the field research grant that supports on-site research for dissertations related to Asia. Also, graduate students may participate in the research internship program designed for training.

5. How can I participate in the academic events of SNUAC?

SNUAC is holding various seminars, colloquia and special lectures under the methodological framework of ‘Asian studies combining regional and thematic research’. SNUAC’s academic events are generally open to all, including researchers, students and the general public who wish to participate (except for special cases with explicit limitations). Information regarding upcoming academic events can be found via SNUAC’s diverse public relations channels (homepage/Facebook/Twitter/YouTube/weekly newsletter <SNUAC WEEKLY>). After the events, information such as photos, reviews and videos of the respective events is available on SNUAC homepage.
