SNUAC combines region-specific Asian studies with thematic research. It actively conducts research and disseminates findings through seven regional centers, eight thematic programs, and the HK+ Mega-Asia Research Project, supported by the National Research Foundation of Korea. In addition, SNUAC undertakes initiatives to foster the next generation of regional experts and to share Asia-related knowledge with the public.

Seoul National University Asia Center

A global hub for comprehensive Asia regional research

Since its establishment in 2009, SNUAC has developed into a comprehensive research institute dedicated to interregional studies in Asia, with the aim of becoming a global hub for Asian research. Maintaining its identity as an integrated center for Asian studies, SNUAC actively pursues its mission through a broad range of academic and policy-oriented initiatives. With over 130 affiliated researchers, the center collaborates closely with relevant departments at Seoul National University and partners with international research institutions and scholars, solidifying its status as a leading institution in the field. Building on this foundation, SNUAC hosts more than 200 academic events annually, advancing interdisciplinary and transregional research across Asia.
